ARNI - THE HISTORICAL TOWN

Arni is a town of historical importance which is located on the banks of Kamandala Naga river. The Serenity and quietude of the place seems to answer many questions that the mother nature has. The town is located 35km from Vellore and 60km from Thiruvannamalai. The town has played a vital role in the freedom struggle of the nation. Arni is commercially a popular town having a large community of silk weavers and Rice producers. A bulk of silk apparels is manufactured and exported to other countries too.

The remnants of Chola rule stand as an Archaeological marvel. The town is surrounded by a galaxy of temples including the famous Padaiveedu shrine, Sri Renugambal Temple, Sri Puthra Kamteeswara temple, besides the 500 years old Vishwa Nathaneswarar Visalakshi temple. A famous jain temple is also situated near Arni.

Jain caves, structural temples and a monolithic image of Neminath stand not only as tourist marvel but also as an ambassador of our Country's Architectural acumen.
